Who is the Course for?

For students having decided to pursue a specific pathway of education in transport design, the foundation course provides the much needed learning on fundamentals in design with an opportunity to develop a strong portfolio for entrance to design schools in India and across the world such as IED Italy, Coventry University UK and other leading design schools.

Career Description

The Foundation in Transport Design pathway allows students to get an insight into the aspects of Transport Design and allows students to progress onto UG degrees in a range of disciplines.

The pathway is divided in two stages. In stage one student get introduced to basic principles of art & design and work with students from all disciplines to get an interdisciplinary learning towards design.

In stage two students start focusing onto their pathway of transport further allowing them to build a strong portfolio of work with focus on both 2D and 3D pieces of work.

Faculties from some of the world's finest Transportation Design Schools such as IED Italy and Coventry University UK visit FAD International for guest lectures and to evaluate portfolios of students for further progression onto their UG Degrees.

Students also have an option to transfer credits to Indian design Institutes at an undergraduate level.
