Who is the Course for?

The PG Programme is aimed at individuals having graduated in Fine Art or relevant fields or practicing artists and professionals wishing to pursue higher education. The course is also ideal for practicing artists wanting to explore other mediums of fine art and engage with a mix of students from various art field on campus or for those wishing to progress overseas onto further studies.

Course Description

The PG in Fine Arts is taught through a mix of studio based & research initiated learning with higher emphasis on individual student development. Students have an opportunity to choose one or more areas of specialisation and often work towards self initiated project briefs mentored by tutors and professionals. Higher emphasis is laid on contemporary art practices, research and professional practice thus allowing individuals to develop their art identity & a signature style towards their work. Students benefit through the interdisciplinary nature of the school of fine art and often work with students from other courses.

Through the year, students visit several art exhibits across the country and have an optional opportunity to be part of the Europe Tour, which allows them to visit some of the finest art destinations across Europe for inspirations, contextual studies and art history. Each student is provided with an individual mentor and further an opportunity for a residency with an artists of a professional to gain further experience. Students are further encouraged to present several exhibitions through the year and further develop a strong portfolio for progression to further education or professional practice.
